

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Jet Logistics Inc. Expands Maintenance with PremAir Aviation 145CRS Acquisition

November 21, 2011 (Charlotte, NC) - Jet Logistics Inc. (JLI), North Carolina's largest Part 135 Air Carrier founded and based in the "First in Flight" state, plans to significantly expand its Maintenance operations. The company announced the immediate acquisition by its Founder/President, W. Ashley Smith, Jr., of PremAir Aviation Services, LLC., an FAA 145 Certified Repair Station based at Charlotte-Douglas International Airport (KCLT) that services Part 91, 135 and 121 customers.

Mr. Smith is also pleased to confirm that PremAir founder and President Patrick Croghan will remain with the 145CRS as Director of Maintenance. Existing PremAir customers should experience no immediate interruptions or changes in service and the company will remain at its current location.

Jet Logistics coordinates its diverse domestic and international passenger charter, AirEMS™ and GovOps™ services from bases in Charlotte and Raleigh, NC. The integration of PremAir will significantly expand the company's existing maintenance division, which services both the Jet Logistics managed aircraft fleet and other general aviation customers.

The consolidated maintenance assets of JLI and PremAir Aviation Services are expected to operate thereafter as JET LOGISTICS TECHNICAL SERVICES, LLC. The company will continue offering a full range of avionics, airframe and engine maintenance, maintenance management programs and parts support services for private, corporate and commercial aircraft. Additional announcements on further company expansion and growth initiatives will be issued at a later date.

QUOTES FROM JET LOGISTICS FOUNDER/PRESIDENT – W. ASHLEY SMITH, JR.

RE: GOALS WITH PREMAIR TRANSACTION, JET LOGISTICS TECHNICAL SERVICES

"This is a strategic acquisition designed to accomplish several key goals, including expanding our in-house abilities to efficiently and cost-effectively service our existing fleet of managed aircraft clients. But we also feel the general aviation maintenance market in North Carolina is underserved in many respects. Jet Logistics Technical Services will aggressively market and expand our 145CRS maintenance services to clients throughout the aviation industry, including but not just limited to those operating thru KCLT."

RE: RETENTION OF PREMAIR FOUNDER/PRESIDENT PATRICK CROGHAN

"Pat is a respected member of the aviation community at large, as well as here locally within the Charlotte market, and has successfully served the Part 91, 135 and 121 industries for many years. Our past, present and future clients will welcome his continued presence and expertise."
